

BioHackathon for interpreting biological knowledge with Semantic Web technologies

BioHackathon

8-12 Feb. 2010
DBCLS / AIST Tokyo Japan

International symposium, 11F AIST/CBRC hall, 8 Feb. 2010

9:00		Registration
10:00	Toshihisa Takagi	Opening remarks
10:05	Toshiaki Katayama	Introduction to the BioHackathon 2010 for Semantic Web
10:10	Erick Antezana	Towards a Semantic Systems Biology: Biological Knowledge Management Using Semantic Web Technologies
10:40	Matthias Samwald	High-level knowledge representation on the Semantic Web: the Concept Web Alliance and related efforts
11:00	Thomas Kappler and Jerven Bolleman	UniProt in RDF
11:20	Francois Belleau	Bio2RDF cognoscope : A killer app for the life science.
11:40	Heiko Horn	Reflect - text mining in Semantic Web
13:30	Tetsuro Toyoda	RIKEN SciNeS
13:50	Mark Wilkinson	SADI - semantic web service
14:10	Andrea Splendiani	Visualization and analysis of biological networks on the Semantic Web
14:30	Mitsuteru Nakao and Toshiaki Katayama	Extending TogoWS and Open Bio* libraries for Linked Data
15:00	All invited participants	Poster session
16:30	All attendees	Open space discussion
18:00	Pre-registrant	Banquet

<http://hackathon3.dbcls.jp>

